

Hold Fast to the Dollar.

THERE is an old saying that "any fool can make a dollar, but it takes a wise man to hold it." There is one sure way of holding the dollar, and that is to bank it. When a man deposits his surplus cash he is loath to draw it out. On the contrary, if he carries the money on his person there always is the temptation to spend. Bank your money with us.

TALKS ON THRIFT

Resisting the Tendency to Spend

A certain father has devised a rather novel plan to develop resisting power in his boys. Knowing the value of self-control, especially in money matters, he gives each boy a weekly allowance with a stipulation that it must be carried in the pocket during the week, and only half of it spent. One boy receives twenty cents each week. If he produces a dime at the week end, he gets another twenty cents; if he doesn't he gets only one dime. The other boy receives a dime and must produce a nickel to get another dime. There is thus a constant incentive to spend, but a constant incentive to save—to resist. It may be that the reward spurs them on, but the fact remains that this father is developing resisting power in the boys that will stand them in good stead in after years.

There is merit in this plan, for the greatest achievement any man can make is to conquer himself; to overcome his natural tendencies and correct his inherent weaknesses. "Know thyself" is a good motto; but before you can command yourself, you must know yourself—get a grip on yourself, and learn to say "no" to yourself.

One of the most common weaknesses is self-indulgence—gratification. It may be gratification in an appetite, passion, love of dress, amusement, or whatnot, but it springs from the same root, lack of self-control. Children manifest this weakness in many ways—burst of passion and unreason, but especially in the childish desire to find pleasure in the spending or money for little gratifications, particularly candy. Many a merchant makes a living from this trait in children, and many parents foster it by too free indulgence in pennies with no "strings" on them. A dime to the average child does not mean two nickels, or ten pennies, but two sodas. Money has value only as it buys something.

The boy who gets all the spending money he wants will develop spending tendencies that will last through life. A certain western youth came east a few years ago for his health. His father was generous in allowing him plenty of money. He bought his candy by the nickel's worth, and a single mouthful cost a cent. He came east again in later years, for pleasure, and paid ten dollars to see a prize fight. It was the fruition of his early indulgences.

Even though children are compelled to work for their spending money, doing chores and little jobs if they are allowed to spend freely with no restraint, it were better they did not work, for the good results of their industry are negated by the bad results of their spending. To earn simply to spend is not so wholesome a proposition by far as to earn to acquire.

Numerous plans and schemes have been devised to teach children thrift, such as penny banks, school savings banks, stamp savings system, and the like, but if it is easy to spend after the money is once saved, the whole process is defective.

We all had our penny bank, and how we did "touch" everyone who touched us! We rattled the pennies in glass, took them out to count and put them back, broke the bank when we went broke, and sometimes had a riot of spending when we lost our self-control. But why practice self-control for a little time, only to lose it and discount all the previous good work? The father of these boys seeks to make self-control a lasting proposition.

You can't spend that you do not have. Money in the pocket burns. It is easy to say "no" to some alluring window or appealing advertisement when you have no money with you; but when the purse is full, how hard to turn away! You can't go if you don't have the price of a ticket; but how much better to stay at home when you have the price of the ticket with you! To carry money around and be able to say "no" to the many opportunities that appeal to you to spend is to develop character, resist temptation, reserve and strength. It means that you know yourself and can conquer yourself. But until you are strong enough to say "no" and stick to it, you had better let the bank do the resisting for you, for this is what banks are for. You can't spend money while it is in the bank.—adv.

WAR PLANS OF VAST SIZE CONSIDERED

President, Cabinet and Council of National Defense Work to Strengthen Forces.

Immediate Army of 1,200,000
and Greater Navy is Now Planned by Officials.

Washington, April 4. — War plans of vast magnitude were considered by President Wilson and his advisers. The president, his cabinet, the council of national defense, and the chiefs of the war-making branches of the government worked feverishly on their projects for a successful prosecution of the impending struggle. The plans for participation in the war, it was stated after the cabinet meeting, will follow these general lines:

Plans for Defense.
The defense of the nation itself. Active and aggressive co-operation with the navies and armies of the allies, particularly in combatting the submarine menace.

Continued supply of arms, munitions and supplies to the allies overseas.

The control and mobilization of supplies for maintaining the civil population during the war.

The extension of financial aid to the greatest possible extent to the allies actively engaged in land warfare in Europe.

Army of 1,200,000.

The president and his cabinet approved plans worked out by the war department for bringing the land forces of the nation up to the point recommended by President Wilson in his war address to congress. These plans contemplate an immediate army of 1,200,000. This number would bring the militia and the regular army up to war strength and would provide the 500,000 additional men asked for by the president. The plans which will go to congress at once contemplate the raising of the necessary additional men by a modified form of universal military service. They likewise contemplate aggressive steps to officer this force with trained men from the regular army, the militia and the officers' reserve corps.

The cabinet and president's war advisers likewise approved plans for co-operation between the naval forces of the United States and those of the allies.

War and navy chiefs worked without needless energy, completing all details of the government's war program. Many new steps were outlined to further strengthen the country for war both on land and sea.

Distribution of Food.
War-time distribution of food supplies for the nation's civilian population is to be placed under the central control of a commercial economy board. It was definitely decided at a conference of the council of national defense and its advisory commission in the office of Secretary of War Baker. This decision was the culmination of plans outlined by administration chiefs during the past few days, which contemplates the mobilization of all the nation's commercial interests through an eminent group of men in the world of trade.

STEEL WORKERS ARE GIVEN WAGE INCREASE

New York, April 4. — Wage increases of about 10 per cent for 225,000 employees, adding nearly $30,000,000 to its annual payroll and making a total increase of 43 per cent since February, 1916, were announced by the United States Steel Corporation. Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman, issued this brief statement:

"It has been decided to increase about 10 per cent the wage rates and salaries up to $2,500 of the employees of our subsidiary companies, to take effect May 1. Equitable adjustments will be made."

DECISION IS A VICTORY FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Columbus, April 4. — Further suffrage powers for Ohio women were made certain in the decision of the East Cleveland charter case in the supreme court of Ohio.

The high court held women may be given full municipal suffrage by any city that adopts a charter containing a grant of that right to women.

This is regarded as the most notable suffrage victory won by Ohio women in the courts in the present generation. It puts equal suffrage on a new and firm footing as a proposition in the state.

Says She Wedded Against Will.
St. Clairsville, O., April 4. — Testifying in Belmont county common pleas court here, Mrs. Irene Haas of Belaire told a divorce from Joseph Haas when she alleged dress as the grounds. She said she did not want to wed Haas, but was persuaded to do so against her will, even the officiating clergyman using his influence to bring about the wedding.

Why Constipation Injures.
The bowels are the natural sewerage system of the body. When they become obstructed by constipation a part of the poisonous matter which they should carry off is absorbed into the system, making you feel dull and stupid, and interfering with the digestion and assimilation of food. This condition is quickly relieved by Chamberlain's Tablets. Obtainable everywhere.—adv.

BRITISH CONTINUE ADVANCE IN WEST

French Capture Eight Miles of Powerful German Defense
Works After Battle.

London, April 4.—Weather played the British a treacherous trick, but it failed to impede Sir Douglas Haig's troops to any serious degree in their encircling advance on St. Quentin.

Occupation of Malsmesy brought the British to within three miles of the St. Quentin-Cambrai road. Here Sir Douglas Haig now threatens to smash a wedge into the Hindenburg line. There were strong signs of intention on the part of the Germans to abandon St. Quentin, not, however, before having leveled the city and all surrounding territory by fire and ax.

Eight miles of powerful German defense works south of St. Quentin fell into the hands of the French after furious fighting, while to the north of the pivotal German stronghold the British, in what London declares was "prolonged fighting," captured the important village of Henin-Sur-Coult, five miles below Arras, and also occupied Malsmesy, cutting the German communications between St. Quentin and Cambrai.

WILSON'S MESSAGE SCANNED BY KAISER

Berlin, via London, April 4. — The press report of President Wilson's "state of war" message has reached Berlin. It is declared here that there would be no change in the German attitude even if congress adopted President Wilson's views. Germany will not declare war nor take any step to wage war against the United States.

The submarine war will be continued as it has been conducted since Feb. 1, but this, declare the officials, is not directed more against the United States than any other neutral. It also declared that there will be no change in the treatment of American citizens in Germany, who have the same freedom as all other neutrals. But Germany expects that the United States will continue the same treatment of Germans in that country.

WOMEN IN MALE GARB BURN 'THE MULE'S EAR'

Pittsburgh, April 4.—Rivaling the tale of the famous "night riders" of Kentucky and the Ku-Klux-Klan of the south, residents of Leasdale, mostly women in male attire, brought to an end what is alleged to have been one of the most notorious resorts in Allegheny county.

While revelry was at its highest at "The Mule's Ear," as the big house near Woodville was known, the crusaders approached and silently applied torches. The house was quickly in flames. Inside there was a mad rush into the open fields.

LOVE AND DARLING ARE OFFICERS OF THIS CLUB

Shelby, O., April 4.—Shelby's newest organization, the City Federation of Clubs, is formed for social welfare purposes. Why shouldn't the federation work for social welfare when the names of the two women who were most active in forming it are Love and Darling?

Mrs. M. T. Love and Mrs. L. E. Darling are the presidents of the Ninety-seven club and the Good Health league, which, together with Agenda club, joined in the federation, the other night.
